REPUBLICANS.

Illinois Is Full of Them this Season

IT WAS CULLOM'S CONVENTION.

Mason Had the Enthusiasm but Cullom Had the Votes—Stampede Tactics That Didn't Work—Stirring Resolutions Adopted.

Springfield Ills., July 25.—For treasurer of State Henry Wulff of Chicago, for superintendent of public instruction S. M. Inglis of Carbondale; for trustees of the state University, Mrs. J. M. Flower of Chicago, S. A. Bullard of Springfield, and Alexander McLean of Macomb.

This was the ticket plored in nomination today by the Republican State convention. For a while it was one of the most tumultuous and exciting gatherings of the representatives of the party in the history of the State. The proposition to follow the example of the Democratic convention and renominate a candidate for United States Senator was the bone of contention and the feeling manifested by the adherents of Cullom and Mason was so intense that alone at one time it looked as though the convention would break up in disorder. Cullom had the votes, as the result proved, but his opponent had a packed floor and the full strength of the galleries, and on propositions submitted to a viva voce vote, these completely drowned the accredited majority. When it came to a show down in the way of a roll call, however, it was speedily demonstrated that the exCongressman was not in it. The result of the ballot makes Senator Cullom the logical candidate for re-election, should the new legislature be Republican on joint ballot when it assembles in January next.

The opening session of the convention was purely perfunctory. Alderman J. H. Mann of Chicago made a stirring party address and then a recess was taken to enable the various committees to complete their labors. When the delegates came together at 3 o'clock they found a disagreeable surprise awaiting them. About half of the seats on the floor were occupied by Mason boomers, and they refused to budge. The delegates blockaded the aisles, or cooled themselves in the outer lobby, meanwhile clamoring vociferously for their rights, including the ejection of the intruders. A stalwart sergeant-at-arms and a score of assistants were pressed into service by Temporary-Chairman Mann, but the odds were against them, and they surrendered their authority in despair. Pandemonium prevailed for an hour and order was only restored by the introduction of ex-Governor Fifer as permanent chairman. He made a lengthy address, which was listened to with forced patience.

Just as soon as he had concluded the fun broke out anew. Senator Fuller of Boone led off with a motion to proceed to the nomination of a United States Senator. A babel of cheers, yells, hoots and cat cries ensued. A dozen delegates mounted chairs and raised as many points of order. The stentorian tones of Andrew J. Lester of Springfield, brother-in-law of W. W. Tracy, president of the National League of Republican clubs and candidate for State treasurer, rose above the din as he made a passionate plea for fair play and denounced attempts at bullyragging. Alderman Noble of Chicago vehemently declared that the Cook county convention was instructed against a nomination, and John M. Smythe, a millionaire merchant of the same city, hurled the declaration back in his teeth and demanded his rights as a free man. In the galleries a party of young fellows, armed with fog horns and cornets out of tune, had ensconced themselves and to every demonstration on the floor they provided an ear splitting accompaniment that was worse than a dozen pandemoniums combined. Ex-Governor Fifer used his gavel until the top of the desk was shivered to splinters and yelled for order until his voice failed and then he abdicated in favor of ex-Lieutenant Governor Ray.

Finally when the convention had about exhausted itself, a motion to lay the proposition to nominate on the table, was entertained and the roll was called. Then the weakness of the Mason element became apparent. The vote stood: Ayes 1019 nays 315.

"That settles Mason forever," shouted a delegate, and again the convention howled.

Nominations for State treasurer were next. Speeches were tolerated. County Clerk Henry Wulff of Chicago, W. W. Tracy of Springfield, and Editor Smith D. Atkins of Freeport, were named. Wulff won on the first ballot. The vote stood: Wulff 752, Tracy 738, Atkins 233; necessary to a choice 658; Wulff's majority 58. Seven names were presented for superintendent of public instruction. Professor S. M. Inglis of Carbondale was nominated on the third ballot. The nomination for University trustees were soon disposed of and at 9:17 the convention adjourned sine die.

The platform submitted by the committee and unanimously adopted was as follows:

The Platform.

The platform reaffirms the adherence of the party in the State to the principles of civil and religious liberty upon which the government was founded, and then proceeds:

We earnestly maintain the right and justice of the American doctrine of protection to American industries. In raising the necessary revenue to maintain the government, we are in favor of such duties on competing imports as will best tend to the development of the resources of our own country, of the labor of our people performed at wages which put the comforts of life within easy reach, and secure good prices for the products alike of our farms, our mines and our workshops and we believe that articles that cannot be successfully produced in this country, except luxuries, should be placed upon the free list. We believe that the importation of so-called raw material free of duty, is an interference with the system of protection to American labor and should be permitted only when the raw material is unobtainable in our own country.

We denounce as unwise and un-American the provisions of the so-called Wilson tariff bill modified in the Senate by the injection of weak and inconsistent attempts to protect special interests (as now pending in Congress) and we charge the Democratic party with the sole responsibility for the effort to destroy our tariff system, a system which has proven the greatest boon to the great mass of American citizens, and we further declare that the unusual and unnatural conditions now existing in this nation between capital and labor which have led to lawlessness, bloodshed, the interruption of business and brought misfortune to all, are the natural results of the false economic theories vacillating policy and hopeless incompetency of the Democratic party; and to remove the evil thus created, restore prosperity and bring health to the body of the people, it is necessary that the Republican party be restored to power.

We favor bimetallism and believe in the use of gold and silver as money metals upon a parity of values, with complete inter-convertibility, under such legislative provisions as shall make the purchasing or debt-paying power of any dollar coined or issued by the United States, the absolute equivalent of that of any other dollar so coined or issued.

We believe in the purity of the ballot and the freedom of elections, and we hold that thorough freedom of elections is obtained and secured only by and under the law.

The Republicans of Illinois are in favor of the largest personal liberty consistent with law and order.

We favor the payment of liberal pensions to the Union soldiers and sailors of the civil war and to their surviving dependents, as a sacred obligation due from the entire people and we insist that in the allotment and distribution of pension funds technical and burdensome restrictions should not be imposed.

We condemn in emphatic terms the course pursued by the present national administration towards the people of Hawaii in attempting to overthrow a friendly government, re establish a corrupt monarchy and force upon them a barbarous queen.

We arraign the present Democratic Governor of Illinois as the most conspicuous case of misfit in high official life. From the day on which he began to desecrate the penal, reformatory, charitable institutions and the public parks of the State into infirmaries and asylums for politicians to the present time, he has shown such wonderful aptitude in doing the wrong thing at all times that the people of the State, irrespective of party, await with undisguised impatience the expiration of his term of office.

This convention approves with all cordiality the unswerving fidelity of the entire Republican delegation in Congress from Illinois, in the maintenance of Republicanism in the House of Representatives and it also returns thanks to our Republican Senator for his able, patriotic and vigilant opposition to that monstrosity of trust legislation, the Senate tariff bill.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

Senate

Washington, July 25.—To-day's debate in the Senate on the question of agreeing to the request of the House of Representatives for a further conference on the tariff bill was not of so exciting or interesting a character as was the debate on the first three days; and there was not an allusion made, except a very remote one, to the President's famous letter to Mr. Wilson. There were three speeches made, the longest by Senator Caffery (Dem.) of Louisiana, and two short ones by Senators Daniel and Hunton (Dem.) of Virginia.

Mr. Caffery's speech was in advocacy of his motion to have a modified sugar bounty paid for 1894, and in favor of a revenue duty on sugar. Failing in getting such protection for the sugar interests of Louisiana, Mr. Caffery declared "more in sorrow than in anger" that himself and his colleague would be forced to antagonize the bill and to part the ties which now bound them to the Democratic party.

The speeches of Senators Daniel and Hunton were called out by a desire to correct an error in a report of Mr. Gorman's speech of Monday last which represented them, with Senators from four or five other States, as being so inimical to the House bill that they would have voted against it. Mr. Daniel declared that he had named no conditions to command his vote and that, whether the bill as it would be finally fixed in conference suited him or not, it would have his support. Mr. Hunton expressed himself in favor of the proposed duty of 40 cents a ton on coal and iron and of 40 per cent. ad valorem on sugar as fair revenue duties, and hoped there was patriotism enough in the Democrats of both Houses "to give and take."

A motion was made by Mr. Quay (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, so as to amend the motions of Senators Vilas and Gray as to put sugar on the free list. The whole matter then went over until to-morrow without action.

During the morning hour there were ten bills taken from the calendar and passed; the conference report on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill was presented and agreed to; and a resolution was offered by Mr. Allen (Pop.) of Nebraska and went over until to-morrow, calling for copies of all telegrams and correspondence of the Department of Justice with the representatives of railroad companies and with the United States District Attorney of Chicago on the subject of "the recent industrial troubles" in that city.

The Senate adjourned at 3.12.

House.

This day was set apart by the House Committee on Rules for the consideration of measures reported from the Committee on Invalid Pensions and Chairman Martin succeeded in having passed three bills of a general nature. These were House bill to amend the general act of June 27, 1890, by providing pensions for widows and orphans of soldiers who died or were killed in discharge of duty and who did not therefore receive discharges from the service; authorizing fourth class postmasters to administer oaths to pensioners; to extend during the term of their natural lives the pensions granted to insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless orphan children of a deceased soldier.

The Senate bill to pension Frances Corse, widow of the late General John M. Corse, at the rate of $100 a month, was also passed.

The conference report in the executive, legislative and judiciary appropriation bill was submitted by Mr. Dockery (Dem.) of Missouri, and after an hour's debate was agreed to. The bill carries a total appropriation of $21,508,235, being a decrease of $357,507 from the bill for the year ended June 30, 1893.

Speaker Crisp laid before the House the letters of the French minister of foreign affairs announcing the fact that he had presented to the Chamber of Deputies the resolutions of Congress on the death of President Carnot, and expressing the thanks of the French government for the sympathy of the United States with France in her grief.

Fire destroyed a cottage in West Colorado City about 2 o'clock this morning. The building was empty and the origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $500. No insurance.

Colorado Summer School.

On Friday the 27th and Monday the 30th of July, art lectures will be given, dealing specially with the question of educational drawing, and its place in the public school system. Educators, teachers and parents are cordially invited to be present. So much attention has lately been directed to this subject, and to that of manual training, very closely allied to it, that any discussion of the matter is doubly welcome in this city which has for many years past been noted for a progressive and enlightened policy in all that pertains to public education. The lectures will be given in the College observatory at 9:30 a. m.

NOT ALARMED.

Walter Wellman's Brother Disbelieves Current Rumors.

THE EXPLORER'S LAST LETTER.

A. W. Wellman Has Been in Colorado Springs for the Past Week—He Talked Freely of the Arctic Expedition.

The relatives of Walter Wellman, the Arctic explorer, are not alarmed over the sensational reports that the expedition is lost. A. W. Wellman, a brother of the explorer, has been the guest of his cousin, H. E. Bassett, in this city for the past week and left for his home in New York Monday. He says that undoubtedly he has the last letter that has been received from the explorer and does not credit the sensational rumors afloat that the crew is lost. The letter states that the expedition left Tromsoe, Norway, on May 24, and would take what seemed to be the true highway for the north. They next touched at Danes Island, off the northwest coast of Spitzbergen. It was here that they established a base of supplies and storing the greater proportion of them there to fall back to in case of an emergency and leaving Professor Oyen with one dog there to guard the provision depot.

Mr. Wellman the brother, stated that the story that Professor Oyen was found on Danes Island without sufficient food and medicines was absolutely without foundation, as his brother stated in his letter that they had left a greater proportion of their supplies there and that they would push forward as far as possible, but that should they get caught in the ice they could follow around the edge with their sledges and dogs until they reached this provision depot. Another reason for thinking it without foundation was that Professor Oyen would not remain there if he thought the expedition lost or if their stores were exhausted but would make an effort to get relief to them.

"I am positive," said Mr. Wellman, "that the expedition is safe. The only fear I have is that they have become shut in in an open sea by the ice floe closing in behind them. This would cut off their return with the ship and delay our hearing from them but I have no reason even to think that this is the case as no letter is due from them yet. In case they were shut in in the manner I suggested, they are fully prepared with sledges and dogs and have a sufficient stock of provisions to carry them around the ice to their base of supplies.

"In his last letter, which is probably the last that has been received directly from him, Walter stated that he had secured control of the Ragnavald-Jarl and that they could keep the same all summer.

"If we find an open sea," he says, 'north of Danes Island, we may take the ship much farther than we first intended. You need not expect to hear from us before the last of July at the earliest and probably the first of August. Any direct news from us before that time will be bad news (meaning that I would not hear from him unless they were compelled to turn back) and no news will be good news. Don't be alarmed at any sensational press reports that may be circulated about us. You may expect such reports, as when they do not hear from us, they will start some startling stories.'

"This is the substance of that letter as near as I can recall it and I do not see any cause for alarm as the ship is not yet due at Danes Island. It was his intention to go as far as he thought safe and then sending the Ragnavald-Jarl back to the provision depot, they would proceed by sledge and dogs over ice.

"My theory is that he found an open sea farther than he expected and has taken his ship farther north as he expressed his intention of doing. Of course there is a possibility that the ice has closed in behind the ship, leaving them in a comparatively open sea yet cut off from returning. The seas are much more open this year than for many years and in case the ship is thus shut in it may be many years before it could be released if not destroyed, hence they would be compelled to return around by the ice, deserting the ship. This would of course delay any word from them until they could reach a point where they could hail some fishing smack. They have good boats and plenty of provisions and after passing the crush on sledges and reaching open sea again could make their way to Danes Island again. I feel confident that all is well with them and will turn up all right in a few weeks."

MYSTIC SHRINERS.

Election of Officers Completed by the Imperial Council.

Denver, July 25.—The Imperial Council of the Mystic Shriners completed the election of officers this morning as follows:

Deputy imperial potentate, Wayland Trask; imperial chief rabbin, John T. Brush; imperial assistant rabbin, Cyrus W. Eaton; imperial high priest and prophet, A. B. McGaffey of Denver; imperial oriental guide, Ethelbert Allen; imperial treasurer, William S. Brown of Pittsburg; imperial recorder, Benjamin W. Rowell of Boston; imperial first ceremonial master, Thomas J. Bishop of Albany; imperial second ceremonial master, Thaddeus B. Beechey; imperial marshal, W. H. S. Wright; imperial captain of the guard, John H. Atwood; imperial outer guard, H. K. Blanchard.

It was nearly 1:30 when the Imperial Council completed the election of officers and took a recess for the purpose of discussing the luncheon provided in the banquet hall of the temple.

Wayland Trask, the new deputy imperial potentate, is a member of Kismet temple of Brooklyn, N. Y.

John T. Brush of Indianapolis is a member of Murat temple of that city, and his election is in the line of promotion, he being the assistant rabbin until to-day.

Cyrus W Eaton of Cedar Rapids, the potentate of El Kahir temple, was a candidate for the office of chief rabbin, but the success of Mr. Brush induced his friends to content themselves with the office received, hoping to use that as a stepping-stone at the next council. Ethelbert Allen, oriental guide, is a member of Ararat temple of Kansas City. W. H. Wright, the new imperial marshal, is a member of Osman temple of St. Paul.

The question of the next place of meeting was left to a committee to decide later on, with whom it is said Detroit and Saratoga have an equal chance.

The afternoon session was devoted entirely to routine business and the council adjourned sine die at 7 p. m.

DEBS IS OUT.

He Finally Permits His Friends to Furnish Bail.

Chicago, July 25.—Messrs. Debs, Howard, Keliher and Rogers of the American Railway union are at liberty under bail pending the hearing of the various cases against them. They were, this afternoon, required to give $7,000 bond each, covering five new indictments in addition to the contempt cases brought by the government and the Santa Fe railroad. The hearing of the contempt cases was continued until Sept. 5, and it is the purpose of the defendants' attorneys to force a hearing on the indictments before the contempt cases are again called.

At this morning's session of the United States Circuit Court the judge entered a formal rule denying the defendants' motion to quash. He held that the Railway Union were committing unlawful acts in interfering with interstate commerce and he proposed to find out what connections the defendants had with it.

The case was postponed on account of the illness of Government Attorney Edward Walker. The attorney for the Santa Fe road attempted to force a hearing on his complaint, but the judge thought he ought not to be forced into taking two doses of the same medicine and put over both cases together.

While court adjourned at 11 o'clock this morning it was 4 o'clock this afternoon before bonds were furnished. Messrs. William Fitzgerald and William Skakel, who were already on the bond of the defendants for $2,500 each, signed the additional 23 bonds and the aggregate amount of their guarantee is $9,500 on each of the four men, or $38,000 in all.

On account of the large number of bonds to be furnished Judge Grosscup this morning reduced the bonds on contempt to $1,000 in each case.

The defendants left the Federal building about 4:30 o'clock and went back to jail to gather their belongings. A meeting of the board of directors is to be held to-morrow afternoon at which President Debs will decide on his future course. He is desirous of going to his home in Indiana for a short stay and will probably leave for there to morrow afternoon. He refuses to say what he intended to do until he can look around and get his bearings after being locked up for a week. He claims that his organization is increasing in strength daily and talks as if he would be doing business at the old stand within 12 hours.

THE CARNIVAL CLUB.

The Sun Flower Parade to be an Annual Festival.

With but little preparation it was demonstrated last year that Colorado Springs could turn out a flower parade equal to anything of the kind that has occurred in the United States. The advertising gained by affairs of this kind has been of great benefit to other cities. Considering that but six days were taken to get up last year's parade, it is a foregone conclusion that with more time and a systematic effort on the part of our citizens we can have a flower parade here that has never been equalled. Whilst we have fewer garden flowers it was shown last year that just as good if not better effects could be had, by using the wild flowers which grow so profusely in this section. In no city of its size in the United States are there more vehicles and driving traps of all kinds than here.

As a result of the success of last year it has been decided to make this an annual festival, and to that end the Carnival club has been organized. The benefits that have been derived to the city of Cincinnati by the panoramas, such as "Rome Under Nero," and "The Fall of Babylon," given under the auspices of the Order of Cincinnatus, or to Santa Barbara, Cal., as a result of the famous flower parades, have led some of the leading citizens of this city to organize a club to institute a regular annual festival which will rank alongside of Rocky Ford's "Watermelon barbecue," or Santa Barbara's flower parade, and aid in adding to the fame of Colorado Springs.

The Carnival club is to be composed of citizens and to create a fund to defray legitimate expenses of the annual festival a nominal fee of $1 per year will be charged each member. The following is the list of officers and committees that were elected for the present year:

D. V. Donaldson, president; Thomas C. Parish, vice-president; E. S. Woolley, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Newberry, chairman of woman's committee, and Mrs. Goddard, secretary.

Advertising committee H. R. Wray, V. Z. Reed.

Transportation—E. Barnett, E. S. Woolley.

Entries—Dr. Williamson, J. Kent.

Bicycle G. W. Dawson, L. A. Pease.

Lantern parade Miss Barlow, Messrs. Vancott and Lloyd.

The date for this year's parade has been fixed for August 29, which will be the date that the delegates to the L. A. W. National meet will visit this city.

A fine programme has been arranged which will consist of a grand ball at the Casino at night after the parade which will be composed of several hundred bicycles at night decorated with lanterns, an Indian war dance to be given by a band of Indians which Mr. Reed will bring for the occasion from the Navajo reservation. During the afternoon a grand floral parade of vehicles of every description decorated with the proverbial sunflower and all sorts of wild flowers. Floral showers will also be a feature.

The committees are all requested to meet at The Antlers pavilion this evening to arrange for the affair. Colorado Springs has an opportunity to distinguish herself and make this a grand event. It will advertise the city as nothing else will and during one of the dullest years in the history of the country at that. There will be thousands of visitors here owing to the cheap excursions for the League of American Wheelmen national meet at Denver. Arrangements will be made for excursions on all the roads. Mr. Buckman of the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Donaldson of the Mining Exchange are leaving nothing undone to make this Sunflower festival a grand success and desire the aid of every citizen of Colorado Springs in that direction.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 25.—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent.; last loan at 1, and closed offered at 1. Prime mercantile paper 3 1/2@4 per cent.

Open dealings at the Stock Exchange were characterized by strength so far as American Sugar was concerned but the general market for a time was dull and steady. The gold shipments Saturday it is said will certainly reach $3,000,000 and unless there is a material increase in the supply of bills $5,000,000 will have to be forwarded. It should be stated that bankers at the present time do not see how big shipments can be averted. The decline in the active railway list ranged from 1-4 to 1 3-8 per cent. Speculation left off irregular. The general list showed net losses of 1-8 to 1 per cent. for the day but American Sugar gained 1 per cent. Total sales were 117,938 shares, of which 74,500 were Sugar. The bond market was active and weak. Sales were $1,300,000.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.

The House of Representatives has passed a resolution providing for a Constitutional amendment requiring the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people. This action will have the effect of making more prominent the discussion of a question to which considerable attention has already been given. At the present time, as most Americans know, Senators are elected by vote of the legislatures of the States, and the intrigues and wire-pullings connected with these elections form a very important part of State politics. To accomplish the desired change it will be necessary, in addition to the vote taken in the House of Representatives, that the amendment shall receive the approval of the Senate, and that thereafter it shall be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States.

The objections which are urged against the present system of electing United States Senators are numerous, plainly evident and of considerable force. It is urged in the first place that under the present system the Senators do not represent the wishes of their constituents with sufficient directness, and that their independence leads them to a disregard of public opinion. It is further more claimed that under the present methods Senators owe their appointment not so much to their qualifications for the position as to their ability in political chicanery and their ability to procure votes by underhand methods. It is much easier, say the critics, to corrupt a legislature than it would be to buy an election at the hands of the people or to secure a nomination in a State convention.

Another objection of considerable importance urged against the indirect method of Senatorial elections is that under the present plan they assume an importance in State politics to which they are not justly entitled and which is damaging to the interests of the State. Nearly all the States of the Union have had experiences of this kind, where the relative merits of candidates for the legislature and the fate of most important measures have been overlooked in the desire to win for this man or that the position of United States Senator. Under the same influence legislatures having assembled have become engaged in bitter and protracted contests to the total neglect of the business of the State and in some cases have actually reached the limit of their session and have adjourned without either electing a Senator or transacting any of the business for which they were supposed to have been called together.

But important as these objections are, it must not be thought that there is nothing to be said on the other side. It is not to be supposed that such a provision would have been incorporated in the constitution except for very good reasons. The fundamental instrument of our government has had a wonderful, it might almost be said a miraculous, success, and a very heavy burden of proof rests upon those who seek to make any change in its provisions. Many of the arguments in favor of a change may be offset by the very evident determination of the founders of the constitution to make the Senators somewhat less susceptible to sudden changes in public sentiment than the members of the House of Representatives and to secure an adequate representation in the national government for the States as States.

The five aims with which the Senate was created are set forth by Hamilton as follows:

To conciliate the spirit of independence in the several States, by giving each, however small, equal representation with every other, however large, in one branch of the national government.

To create a council qualified, by its moderate size and the experience of its members to advise and check the President in the exercise of his powers of appointing to office and concluding treaties.

To restrain the inconstancy and fickleness of the popular House, and so guard against the effects of gusts of passion or sudden changes of opinion in the people.

To provide a body of men whose greater experience, longer terms of membership and comparative independence of popular election, would make them an element of stability in the government of the nation, enabling it to maintain its character in the eyes of foreign States and to preserve a continuity of policy at home and abroad.

To establish a court proper for the trial of impeachments, a remedy deemed necessary to prevent abuse of power by the executive.

It is plainly evident that nearly, if not all of these aims are better secured by an indirect election of the Senators, while many of the abuses complained of as arising from the contests in the State legislatures might be obviated by the adoption of proper rules for their conduct, without doing away with the system altogether.

The fact that some States are adopting the practice of formal nominations for United States Senators in the party conventions while others accomplish the same results more indirectly, would indicate that the people are ready for the proposed change, but on the other hand the fact that the change can only be made through a constitutional amendment requiring the consent of the Senate and of three-fourths of the States points at least to delay. It is a wise conservatism which prompts the American people to be slow about making radical changes in their system of government. Certainly there is nothing in the change now proposed to require especial haste, and there will no doubt be ample opportunity for fullest discussion and consideration.

It is a wise custom by which public sentiment holds parties responsible for the actions of those whom they have placed in official positions. It is only in this way that responsibility can be enforced and the best interests of the public secured. If we were to admit that a President or Governor is alone individually responsible for his acts and that his party may disclaim any accountability to the public for them, our State and National administrations would become merely a succession of personal reigns and responsible and representative government would, so far as the executive officers are concerned, be at an end. Similarly any party has a right to claim credit for the successful and wise administration of the public affairs by officers which it has placed in power. The Populists of Colorado are justly entitled to all the credit there is to be gleaned from the administration of Governor Waite.

It is reported from Washington that Cleveland and Gresham are now considerably worried over the action of Minister Willis who "precipitately" recognized the Hawaiian republic, contrary to the wishes of President Cleveland and in spite of the example set him by the British minister in the Islands. Minister Willis has already shown himself to possess a perilous amount of patriotism and American spirit, and is obviously unfit to represent the foreign policy of the present administration. A great mistake appears to have been made when Paramount Blount was superseded.

Senator Hill's Shakespearean quotation was in the nature of a double edged weapon. As a piece of sarcasm it fitted admirably with the rest of his speech, but in sober realism it was not very far out of the way. However no one will be disposed to deny to the President's friends all the amusement they can get from hearing the President compared to Tyrant Ceasar, and the conservative Senators to those patriots who compassed the overthrow of the Roman usurper.

The United States Court in Chicago has decided that the answer of Debs's attorney is not sufficient to release him from contempt proceedings. The answer it will be remembered was in effect that Debs was not bound by the order of the court because he did not believe the court had any right to make such an order. Under the circumstances the decision is not a surprise.

Denver is a remarkable success as an entertainer. Every convention that meets there goes away delighted with the welcome it has received and anxious to come again. The spirit of western hospitality is perhaps not more intense there than elsewhere, but Denver is fortunate in having more to do with than many of her neighbors.

If anyone has yet solved the mystery of Senator Hill's defense of President Cleveland, his conclusions have not been made public. One thing however is pretty sure. Whatever may be the object it is not one which will make the President's course easier, or tend to advance the success of the measures which he has at heart.

It is to be hoped that the penitentiary muddle and the quarrels in the State administration will occupy Governor Waite's attention until after the next election. Colorado people live in daily fear of his breaking out in a new spot.

Keep Cool.

Oh, never mind how hot it is,
Keep cool.
Just wear a pleasant, smiling phiz.
Keep cool.
Don't fret and fuss and kick and stew
As if the joys of life were few.
This weather's good enough for you.
Keep cool.

It ought to be hot in July.
Keep cool.
Of course you know the reason why.
Keep cool.
The corn and things have got to grow.
Warm weather helps them on, you know
The universe must have a show.
Keep coo'

Just take things easy for awhile;
Keep cool.
Don't try to put on too much style;
Keep cool.
Wear outing shirts if you're a man
If not, do just the best you can.
You'll find this is the wisest plan.
Keep cool.

The Summer School.

Arrangements are being made for admission to the Cave of the Winds and the Grand Caverns at greatly reduced prices. The trip will probably be made some day next week.

Dr. Fernow arrived yesterday morning and is being entertained by Mr. Kent at the Alta Vista. He lectures to-morrow evening at the High School Auditorium. Summer School tickets admit to this lecture but the general public will be charged 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ehrich wish to invite all who are interested in the school to the reception which they tender the faculty and students on Friday from 5 to 7. No special invitations are being sent out.

As the Auditorium is to be used to-morrow evening for Dr. Fernow's lecture, the Festival chorus will meet in The Antlers Pavilion at 8 o'clock. The chorus is making fine progress under the efficient leadership of Professor Carroll and is sure to make its part of the coming festival a great success. Special programs of the concerts will be announced in a few days.

Gillett, Cripple Creek, Bull Hill, Arequa, Victor and Altman, all for $3.75, on the Summer School excursion.

The White City Art Folio Series is rapidly drawing to a close, and only three more numbers remain to complete the set of twenty. Those who desire to get them should do so now, as all back numbers can now be had by applying at the business office of this paper. For the benefit of those who have recently subscribed and have not had the opportunity to save the coupons we will furnish the entire set upon receipt of $1. This offer will only be kept open for a short time. Arrangements will be made to have them beautifully bound in cloth or Morocco at a nominal figure, and to possess one of them will be worth five times their actual cost. You will never have the chance to buy them so cheap again, for they will be out of print when the series is once completed. It is the most beautiful souvenir of the White City published.

STOCKS AND MINES.

SALES..... 623-8 | LEAD..... $3 60

General Review.

Colorado Springs, July 25.—The main feature of the market yesterday was the forward course of Mollie Gibson which has again taken the toboggan and dropped from 2¾ cents bid and $1 asked. This is a fall of 2¼ cents since opening yesterday and the cause cannot be authenthically assigned—However it is gently rumored that a considerable amount of the stock is being sold and that some one is unloading. Mind and that some hold this theory it is generally circulated among the brokers. Argentum-Juniata held its own, although no sales were reported. Calumet is a little stronger, closing at 2¾ cents ask. Alamo was weaker at 1 and ½ cents Union was steady at 10 and 11 cents, with but little moving. The day was exceedingly quiet and the sales amounted to but little over 75,000. The quotations and sales for the day were as follows.

In Pot Gulch.

Pot gulch is taking a boom in earnest and good cause, says The Journal. The leases on the Great Western, Great Western No. 2 and Bolivar, known as the Bolivar group of mines are running crosscuts on the east side of the porphyry blowout on which the group is located 50 feet and have taken out some good ore. The tunnels on the east are in fine looking mineral, carrying free gold. On the west they have started a 1300 foot tunnel, on which they will put a Burleigh drill. The tunnel from the west will run through the granite formation in a quartz vein for 800 feet before encountering the blowout. It will cut the blowout at a depth of 600 feet, and if developments mean anything they will have the largest body of mineral in the district. In fact we have seen nothing in the district that shows anything near as good on the surface. Mr. Clum of Leadville is the lessee and Mr. Pearson, the superintendent, is a gentleman of practical experience in mining, well known in Aspen and other mining camps in Colorado as one of the most successful miners in the State and it is lucky for the pot gulch prospectors, that they have such an experienced mining man in charge, for it will double the value of any prospect in the gulch and will stimulate others to develop their properties as do the Great Western group.

A Big Mining Deal.

A bond has been obtained on 320 acres of patented land a little south and east of Victor on the great mineral belt that runs the granite formation between Little Bull hill and Nipple mountain, says The Record. This land was patented seven years ago as a cattle ranch with no idea that there was gold ore in the ground, as in fact, in this country, it turns out now however, to be right in the center of the great ore belt of the camp. The parties bonding it have named it the Central Farm They would have been more right if they had called it the Gold Farm. One of the important features of the deal is that the title is perfect and no danger of suits or conflicts which are the aggravating accompaniments. There is no chance of litigation. A wide vein of mineral cuts the entire tract, cropping in many places to the surface The parties to the deal are J. H. Willard & Sen. Judge W. McIlen, John McDonald Victor James E. McGee, Laurene and one or two Cripple Creek and Eastern parties Every man connected with the deal has had vast mining experience and the property will be pushed to the front without delay

CRIPPLE CREEK.

Latest News from El Paso's Great Gold Camp

Cripple Creek July 25.—A gold brick valued at $700 was on exhibition in town yesterday. It is the product of the placer west of town. The product last month was $1,600.

The Washington lessees on the Victor bonanza are getting out some very good ore and in good quantities.

Messrs. O. H. Wiler, F. H. Pettingell, J. Cleveland, F. H. Phelps, England Bros. Leonnard, Huffman, and Tracy, all heavily interested in the Elkton Gold Mining company, were in town yesterday investigating that company's workings which are located near Fifth and Carr avenue between the Uncle Sam and Lower towns. Samples were taken from the richest vein yesterday, which assayed from $10 to $400. Unfortunately the ore body is not compact enough to run a mill run as yet but should further developments confirm Manager Dickey's expectations they will soon be in shape to put a mill run. Over 100,000 shares of stock were disposed of yesterday. A piece of ore from this property weighing about 10 pounds shows free gold on all sides and it is estimated that it will run over $2,000. The day streak from which this is taken is 30 inches thick at the bottom of the shaft, which is 65 feet deep.

The Independence Monday sent out a complete train load of ore, consisting of ten cars, over the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad. Since the resumption of shipments from this mine DeWitt Querean is kept on the jump but says that he expects to have a great deal more to do when the new hoist is in running order. It is expected the new plant will be in operation in about two weeks

A paying copper mine in the city limits is to be added to the list of Cripple Creek's producers, if we may believe the rumors regarding the discovery of a wonderful lead some time ago

Twenty-nine cars of merchandise have been received since Saturday morning over the Florence and Cripple Creek This is for Cripple Creek alone, probably as many more were stopped at the way stations

The Hull Transfer company delivered an average of five cars of ore daily at Gillett. The Sweet, Buena Vista, Moose, Independence and Pike's Peak ship the greater part of their ore over the Midland.

Chambers & Henderson, lessees on the Lone Star and Queen Bee lodes, struck a 6-foot body of very heavily stained porous porphyritic quartz which looks like rich ore. Contract was let to-day for a tunnel of 50 feet on the Lone Star to Robt H. Dickson, which is to be completed within 30 days

One-half mile south of Wilson creek and one and one-half miles from Victor, nearly south the owners, Barger, Call & Vaughn, struck a 4-foot vein of quartz of porphyritic character in shaft No. 2 of Jack the Ripper. The ore carries wire and free gold across the full width of the vein. The shaft is 60 feet deep. Mr. Barger is in a streak of luck, having been elected mayor of Victor and now has struck it rich in a mine, of which his interest was purchased only a few days since His many friends both here and Pueblo will rejoice with him on his good luck. Mill runs were made on this ore in camp, which returned $6,072 per ton and a test was made by Burlingame of Denver, which shows $10,000 per ton

On the Victor 40 men are at work and two car loads of high grade ore were last week.

A tunnel is being run by the lessee, Charles A. Crane of Colorado City on school section 16 at Cripple Creek to develope the lease. Five men are at work on it.

A WORD WITH YOU.
Two blades of grass where there was one before. That's what our garden hose makes; and that's what Jerry Simpson says is "honest productive effort." Think of it! Velvety lawns, fruitful gardens; refreshened, rarefied atmosphere. This is the picture our garden hose calls up, and makes you feel a fatherly interest in all creation. After the evening meal he gives to the grass and flowers the drink that the skies have denied, supplementing Dame Nature's work, correcting her shortcomings. We can find poetry in garden hose. You can not find profit in cheap garden hose. We sell the most durable garden hose in the world. Don't forget that we are leaders in hose novelties.

Dr. Fernow is a Prussian by birth and speaks excellent English with a slight foreign accent. He was formerly connected with the forestry department of the Prussian government and is a thorough expert in that line. This is not the Doctor's first trip to the West and he is already familiar with the Rocky Mountain region. He has had much to do with the establishment of the forestry reserves of the West, and as

The bill in its present form is known as the Meitao bill, and Dr. Fernow believes that there is a good chance of its passage in the present Congress. Musical Festival Notes.

Another grand rehearsal, preparatory for the musical festival, was held at the auditorium last night, at which 100 of our singers were present. The "Creation," and several minor choruses were rehearsed. Miss Fields presiding at the piano.

The next rehearsal will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at The Antlers pavilion, and it is hoped that everyone who is to take part will be present at that rehearsal and receive a membership ticket for chorus. This will be a musical feast which Colorado Springs never enjoyed before. The Summer School has been extremely fortunate in securing the famous Casino orchestra, which stands without a rival west of Chicago.

The soloists for this festival are among the very best to be found in this part of the West. Mrs. Tucker, one of the leading sopranos of the State and a resident of our city, is to take the soprano role in Mendelssohn's Forty-second Psalm, and the de Koven quartet is to render the male chorus, "The Lord Hath Commanded."

The soloists for the "Creation" are Mrs. Schooley, one of Denver's finest sopranos; Mr. Adams Owen, Denver's famous bass and late of the Royal Opera company of England, and Mr. Zinck, one of the leading tenors of the West and a pupil of Niles W. Gade of Denmark for three years, will perform the solo parts in this great work, together with a grand chorus of 150 voices, will make a feast of music long to be remembered by the music loving people of our city.

Going Out of Business.

The entire stock of the Famous Shoe House is to be closed out. Having fully decided to discontinue the shoe business in this city I now offer my entire stock of shoes and store fixtures at eastern wholesale cost and less in order to close out as soon as possible. I shall offer great inducements to purchasers. In order to make this sale genuine I will in no case allow one penny more added to the price of a single item than actual eastern cost. It will pay you to call and look through whether you buy or not. You can do so without trouble to yourself or salesmen, as I have every kind of shoe in my stock so arranged with former and present cost price marked on each in plain figures, so that you can see for yourself. If you want shoes don't get left, but come at once and get full benefit of this sale while every department is complete and sizes good.

Store open Saturdays until 10 p. m.
